

Songs of Realization

A feature of the Buddhist tradition in general, and in particular of the Kagyu tradition, is the singing of songs of realization.

A key hallmark of Rinpoche's activity is his revival of this tradition. He has done this by not only teaching the songs of great realized masters, but also by expressing his own realization in the form of spontaneous songs.

Rinpoche has also ensured that these songs have been translated into many languages of the world and put to beautiful melodies.

Enjoy!